PRICE TWO CEN. S

WILL NOT BUILD MAIN ST. LINE

EDWARDS SAYS COMPANW WILL FORFEIT THE $1,000

MAY TEAR UP MARKET STREET

Declares if Line Does Not Pay Better
the Company Can't Afford to Continue It

At a meeting of the council last evening the franchise of the City Railway company for an extension on Twenty-third street from Main street to the Market street line and taking up the track on Market street from Sixteenth to Twenty-third street, was refused.

President B. E. Edwards of the street car company this afternoon was asked as to whether the company would build the extension on Main street from Sixteenth street to the Losley boulevard. President Edwards gave the following interview:

"Two years ago the company was requested by the council to extend the street car line to the Mormon Coulee road, on Market street, to the Catholic cemetery and on Main street to the Losley boulevard. Two of these lines were extended and neither of them proved a paying investment. The line from Sixteenth street on Market street to the Catholic cemetery is an utter failure and the receipts on the extra car run from Sixteenth to the Catholic cemetery are only from $1 to $1.50 during the winter and during the remainder of the car only $3 and $4. The car means a loss to the company on an average of $1,000 a year. There are only twelve or fifteen houses tributary to the Market street line east of the Green Bay tracks and no new buildings have been erected tributary to that line during the past two years or since the line was in operation."

"The street railway company and the committee on railroads of the council looked over the property and considered taking up the Market street line and building a line in connection with the Main street line on Twenty-third street to reach the Catholic cemetery. This line would be tributary to between 80 and 100 houses and has a good prospect of being a line that will pay. It would give good access to the bluffs and give accommodations to the Catholic cemetery and at the same time not discommode any parties living on Market street east of the Green Bay tracks."

"It was up to the council to determine to the people's interest as well as the interests of the company. Refusing, we have no other alternative than to quit. As it is, I think, that the board of directors will forfeit the $1,000 and will not build the Main street extension, for it would not now be self sustaining."

"We shall not make any further effort to get a rehearing and now it is up to the aldermen if anything is done."

President Edwards also stated that unless the line on Market street does not improve and show an increase it will have to be taken up as the company cannot stand the loss that has been sustained during the past two years.

MILLIONS LOST IN OIL LAKE FIRE

MEXICO CITY, Mex., July 11.—A lake of oil covering an area of more than one square mile and of unknown depth in the state of Vera Cruz is on fire. It has been burning for five days and has created the wildest terror among the natives of that section. The blaze is seen for more than 200 miles at sea, according to navigators who have arrived at Vera Cruz and Tampico.

The scene of the fire is about seventy-five miles southeast of Tampico, near the San Geronimo river. It is remote from any railroad. An oil field was being developed at that place by the Pennsylvania Oil company, which is composed of Pittsburgh men. The company had bored a number of wells and all of them were flowing oil in large quantities. The product was being placed in earthen storage tanks preparatory to shipping.

A careless workman accidentally set fire to one of the wells and the flames were communicated to the underground reservoir of oil. A terrific explosion occurred which uplifted the earth's surface throughout the whole field. The explosion was heard seventy-five miles distant. The oil company lost $200,000 worth of machinery and the oil which has been burned will total millions of barrels. The whole oil field will be destroyed.

An unidentified man is also dying at the hospital.

Yesterday's Hottest

The thermometer reached its highest point yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock after gradually rising from 8 o'clock on. Reports show that business was dull because of the intense heat although no heat fatalities were reported.

One prostration was reported here. Otto Scheromann, an employee at the Milwaukee roundhouse, was overcome and had to be taken from the engine and removed to his home.

Work was suspended on the Y. M. C. A. and at the normal school today owing to the heat. Two workmen are reported to have been prostrated at the normal school yesterday.

The temperatures by hours yesterday was as follows:

FAIRBANKS WILL WELCOME WELCOMER

INDIANAPOLIS, July 11.—Four years ago Fairbanks was welcomed home from the Chicago convention where he was nominated vice president by the republicans. Attorney John W. Kern made the address of welcome. Next week Kern will be welcomed home from Denver, and it is planned to have Fairbanks deliver the address of welcome.

Believes Kern Story

The entire city will join in the event and rejoice to see the same two men in transposed roles, re-enact the scene of four years ago.

Mayor Bookwalter, who seconded Fairbanks' nomination for president at Chicago, said today:

"Kern will not be a load for Bryan to carry; he will help carry the load for Bryan. In 1904 he ran ahead of Parker in the state while the republican candidate ran 8,000 behind Roosevelt. I believe Kern stronger than the ticket."

TRAIN HITS AUTO; WOMAN IS SLAIN

N7W YORK, July 11.—William R. Hutchings of the firm of Hutchings Bros., ship chandlers at 31 South street, his wife, and their 10-year-old daughter, Lillian, together with a chauffeur by the name of Frederick Clough, were crossing the tracks of the Long Island railroad about a third of a mile west of Center Moriches in Hutchings' automobile, when the car was struck by the engine of a fast train.

Mrs. Hutchings died within a few minutes after she had been picked up. Hutchings was so severely injured that physicians say he cannot live, and the daughter suffered a fracture of the skull and a concussion of the brain, which makes her recovery extremely doubtful. The chauffeur alone escaped with little injury.

AUTO DRIVER JAILED.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 11.—Fixing his punishment at four years in the penitentiary, a jury adjudged F. C. Johnson, a professional chauffeur, guilty of involuntary manslaughter, after one of the most bitterly fought cases on record in this state. Johnson was driving his car when it struck and killed Ben Waller in East Nashville.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Pat M'Carrren, whose political crucifixion at Denver was a feature of the democratic national convention, was given what is considered his death blow as a force in state politics today. It came when Supreme Court Justice Kelly of Brooklyn denied the senator's mandamus compelling the board of elections to approve his selection as primary election inspector and ordered the board to certify the appointees of the Williams-Delaney faction which have been recognized as regular by the state convention.

HIEKEL DELEGATE TO STATE MEETING

The Trades and Labor Council met last night. Because of the heat but few attended and but little business was done as those present were anxious to get out into the open air as soon as possible. Emil Hiekel was chosen delegate to the State Blue Label League and Trades and Labor Convention which takes place at Fond du Lac next week. He will represent both organizations. The council is making an effort to secure outside speakers for the Labor Day program which will be held at the Fair Grounds as usual. All the unions in the city have been invited to take part in the big Saengerfest parade and the council last night decided to accept the invitation.

The Woman's Union Label League will hold a meeting Tuesday evening.

DROVE ASTRONAMERS FROM OBSERVATORY

SAN JOSE, Cal., July 11.—Inquest will be made today into the sanity of Joe Duff, a carpenter at Lick Observatory, who yesterday went suddenly insane, and stood guard over the priceless instruments for several hours.

The man was showing a party of tourists the immense Lick equatorial telescope, when he suddenly began to act queer.

He attacked the tourists, and after driving them out, routed the astronomers and a party of students. They attempted to overpower him, fearing injury to the instruments but he held them at bay several hours before a deputy came and arrested him.

COUNCIL REFUSES CAR EXTENSION

WON'T LET CITY RAILWAY CO
TEAR UP TRACKS

PROPERTY OWNERS OBJECTED

And Result Pleases Street Car Company, as They Did Not Want to Make the Improvement Anyway

By the vote of nine to seven in the council last evening the La Crosse City Railway company was refused a franchise to extend its tracks from Main street to Market street on Twenty-third street and to remove the tracks on Market street between Sixteenth and Twenty-third street.

Alderman Keller read the ordinance granting the company a franchise, but an objection was raised by several aldermen on the grounds that the property owners on Market street, where the said track will be taken up, have registered several complaints.

At the last meeting of the council the matter was referred to the committee on ordinance and railroads, and last evening they reported favorable on the ordinance granting the company the franchise. At the meeting of the committee when the matter was taken up no complaints were received and at that time it was supposed there was no opposition. While the aldermen voting against the franchise last evening stated that they favored the extension along Twenty-third street, the objection was raised on the grounds that after working for ten years the property owners had finally got a street car line along their property, the company now wanted to tear it up. The ordinance was lost by the following vote:

Nays—Aldermen Grover, Lang, Rouska, Rehfuss, Schnell, Snyder and Muenzenberger.

Ayes—Aldermen Arenz, Bartel, Downs, Emery, Goddard, Keller, Marvin, Sletten and Vollmer.

A resolution was adopted by the council, vacating the streets on the lower end of the North side east of Berlin street where the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul tracks intersect with Berlin street. This was done that the Milwaukee may extend its tracks without danger at crossings.

The board of public works was authorized to construct permanent election booths in the Nineteenth, Tenth, Fifteenth and Fifth wards. In the first four wards named the booths will be constructed in basements, while in the Fifteenth ward the booths will be constructed in the vacant room in the school building. National Committee Treasurer Will Make Trip to Dens of Octopi Soon to Get Campaign Funds

HOT SPRINGS, Va., July 11.—Bringing a message of peace from Vorys and other Ohioans who fought Hitchcock, Elmer Dover, secretary of the republican national committee, arrived today, and at breakfast with Taft went into the political situation at length.

Taft declared himself much pleased that Vorys had buried the hatchet and himself declared his opposition to Hitchcock had ended. The latter left last night so there was no opportunity for each to fall into the other's arms.

After a talk with Taft Dover held a long conference with Treasurer Sheldon, and this afternoon will discuss matters further with Taft. He will probably remain over Sunday and may meet Vorys who comes on Monday.

Since Sheldon arrived he received twelve notable campaign contributions, all by wire, each donor being anxious to be the first financing Taft's fight for a bed in the White house. He admitted Wall street was well represented in the contributions. He will start a systematic campaign of money getting in New York Monday.

Eager for the senatorship, Representative Burton, of Ohio, is here, but declares he is ready to sink his personal ambition should it be necessary to preserve harmony in Ohio. He sails next Saturday with Senator Smoot for Europe to obtain information in campaign money matters for the benefit of the national monetary commission. Smoot goes abroad to gather data for the national waterways commission.

AMERICAN GUNNERS WIN FIRST HONORS

LONDON, July 11.—The American team won first honors in the international shoot which ended at Bisley today.

Unofficial scores for the three leading teams:

America, 2,531.

England, 2,496.

Canada, 2,539.

The shoot was held preliminary to the Olympic games.

The success of the American team was a keen disappointment to the Englishmen, who counted strongly on first honors.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 11.—Before one of the largest crowds of distinguished persons ever gathered in the Cramps shipyard, the battleship South Carolina, the newest of the navy, was launched at 12:05.

Miss Frederica Calvert Ansel, the daughter of Governor Ansel of South Carolina, broke the bottle of champagne on the ship's bow as she left the ways amid the cheers of the visitors.

The launching was not marred by accident and as the ship took the water the craft in the Delaware let loose their whistles and sirens and dipped colors in honor of the new comer.

On the christening stand besides Miss Ansel were her father and his full staff.

Following the ceremony of christening the party was guests of the Cramps at luncheon.

The South Carolina is the second of the "Dreadnaughts."

A few weeks ago her sister ship, the Michigan, was launched at Camden.

1912 CONVENTION IN MILWAUKEE

DENVER, Col., July 11.—After a week of strenuous sightseeing and campaigning for Milwaukee as the 1912 convention city, the Rose club in its special train started regretfully for home today. The return trip will be made by way of Kansas City.

Wisconsin has made a distinct impression during this convention. The election of a national committeeman attracted general notice. The personal choice by Mr. Bryan of John A. Aylward to make a seconding speech brought Wisconsin again in the limelight. Then the picturesque activity of the Rose club and band have made them quite the best known uniformed organization in the city. Mayor Rose left for St. Louis Thursday night.

It is the belief that Milwaukee will land the 1912 convention. The applause which everywhere greeted the appearance of the mayor and his club in their nightly serenade has attracted a great deal of attention to the Cream City.

SHERMAN MUST FACE OPERATION

UTICA, N. Y., July 11.—It is announced for James S. Sherman, republican nominee for vice president, that no determination has been made as to when he will undergo an operation. His physician visits him twice daily and is carefully observing his condition.

Mr. Sherman is permitted to spend about two hours each day with his secretary in going over correspondence. The rest of the time, his physician declares, must be spent in rest.

It is said that Mr. Sherman has recuperated more slowly than from any previous attack, and his condition is such that it would not permit any great strain. While it is admitted that he will ultimately have to be operated on, it will not be until he has gained strength.

URGE UNIFORM BILL OF LADING

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—After nearly four years of investigation and study, conferences with shippers and railroads, the interstate commerce commission today issued its report approving and recommending a uniform bill of lading.

The new bill is more in the nature of a compromise between the shipper and carrier than the form issued by the commission itself. It favors the shipper more than the railroads. The commission does not prescribe this new bill, doubting its legality to do so, but urges its adoption by all railroads.

MOB ATTACKS A WIFE BEATER

CHICAGO, July 11.—Several men were badly beaten today in a riot following an attempt of passengers on a street car to wreak vengeance on James Dalton, who had pursued his wife until she fell exhausted in front of the moving car.

When the woman fell, she was hurled several feet by the fender, and a crowd gathered about Dalton. Someone struck him and he fell unconscious. A detachment of police fought off the crowd and took Dalton to the station. He had quarrel with his wife.

KERN IS UNANIMOUS CHOICE

Bewhiskered Indianan Get Nomination When Other Candidates Withdraw One by One

DENVER, July 11.—John W. Kern, "from the banks of the Wabash," will be the running mate of William Jennings Bryan in the campaign against Taft and Sherman. Bryan made it so. In the closing hours of the democratic national convention here the presidential candidate, nominated at 4:40 o'clock in the morning, after a wild all-night session, had his wish recorded by the convention, by acclamation. The issue is now with the voters.

No other candidate had any chance against Kern after the Lincoln fiat had gone forth. Other names were placed in nomination—Towne was presented, McNeil of Connecticut and Clark Howell of Georgia were also offered and John Mitchell and Conrad of Montana, each enjoyed honorable mention. Indeed, prior to the cracking of the whip, it appeared to the uninitiated that it was to be a free-for-all fight.

Kern Tip Goes Out

But it was known in the press box before the convention was called to order for the final session that Kern was to be the man; and when the proper time arrived Towne took the platform and withdrew himself from the contest, Howell's name was withdrawn by Georgia, from which state he had been placed in nomination, and before the roll call was completed McNeil's name was scratched off the list of entries, leaving Kern a clear field.

It may have been due to the fact that all of the delegates were exhausted from Thursday night's session or to some other cause, but the cheering for Kern never reached the height of a real demonstration. The Indiana delegate made a brave attempt to make the welkin ring for him but the welkin was so severely strained in the final Bryan demonstration Thursday night that only the sound as from a broken bell came forth.

Bryan Did Not Come. The convention adjourned within half an hour after Kern had been nominated, and it was not until an hour later that the delegates began to get out of town. Wild rumors went about that Bryan was coming

A REPUBLICAN VIEW.

By the time this issue of The Journal reaches its readers, the democratic party of the nation will undoubtedly have placed its standard in the hands of William Jennings Bryan. Of itself this is remarkable. There is no case like it in the history of the country. Grover Cleveland, it is true, was nominated for president three different times, but he was elected the first time, in 1884; defeated in 1888, and then elected in 1892. Bryan was defeated in 1896 and again in 1900. In 1904 his party was reactionary and Alton B. Parker was chosen to head the ticket. Now, twelve years after his first defeat, Bryan is again his party's nominee for the presidency. Surely, in view of his failures at the polls, he could not possibly receive a higher mark of honor and confidence than the Denver convention's naming him again.

The Bryan of 1896 and the Bryan of today are somewhat different persons. The Bryan who ran for president twelve years ago was something of an accident—the choice of a convention that his oratory had "enthused" to the point of frenzy. During the time that has since elapsed Bryan has become one of the real leaders of the nation. In public affairs he is a positive ethical force. He is regarded with respect and admiration by countless thousands outside of his own party.

With the passing of the years Mr. Bryan has naturally become riper in intellect and saner in judgment. Essentially, however, he has not far shown us he is of the forum, not of the desk; an orator, not an administrator. His ability as a party leader is not to be questioned. His executive ability, his practical statesmanship, have got to be put to the test.

Can Bryan win this time? The superior machinery and the greater wealth of the republican party are as powerful factors in this contest as they have ever been before. The republican nominee for the presidency is unquestionably popular, partly on his own account and partly because he is the personal choice of President Roosevelt, who among the masses is apparently even more of an idol than is Bryan. But on the republican side there are more elements of weakness than usual, particularly with regard to the negro and labor vote. What may be far more important, the country has just passed through a panic, and a panic has always spelled the defeat of the party in power. After the panic of 1873 the republicans suffered defeat at the polls and the democrats were ousted from office after the panic of 1893. Bryan, the victim of the hard times of 1893, may be the beneficiary of the very recent panic.

Thought She Knew Him.

A short time ago a surgeon had three leg amputations in a week. The unusual number caused talk in the surgeon's household, and his little daughter Dorothy was greatly interested. A few days after the last operation the surgeon's wife and little Dorothy were rummaging in the attic. In a trunk was found a daguerrotype depicting a girl about 8 years of age. The portrait, through a peculiarity of pose, showed only one leg of the subject, the other being doubled up under her.

"Whose picture is that, mamma?" asked Dorothy.
"Mine. It was taken when I was a child not much older than you are now."

"Did you know papa then?"
"No, dear. Why do you ask?"
"I thought maybe you did, 'cause you've only got one leg,"—Delineator.

A Little Joke Between Them.

An American on a visit to London took a bus to the city every morning, where he had business with an Anglo-American firm. He always sat behind the driver. On the first journey he noticed that on arriving at a certain corner the driver took out his big silver watch, dangled it to and fro a few times, and winked jovially at an individual who stood at the door of a shop.

"Why do you do that?" the American asked.
"Well," said the driver, taking his pipe from his mouth, "that's a little joke we 'as between us, bein' as we are old friends. You see, his father was 'anged."—Philadelphia Record.

Mrs. Lotte—No, indeed, I didn't; and I'm going right back now to the polls to change my vote.—Brooklyn Life.

"Bang It Again"

The family were gathered in the library admiring a splendid thunderstorm, when the mother bethought herself of Dorothy, alone in the nursery. Fearing lest her little daughter should be awakened and feel afraid, she slipped away to reassure her. Pausing at the door, however, in a vivid flash of lightning which illuminated the whole room she saw her youngest olive branch sitting straight up in bed.

Her big brown eyes were glowing with excitement, and she clapped her chubby hands, while in her shrill voice she shouted encouragingly, "Bang it again, God! Bang it again!"—Delineator.

Her Limitations

"These pianos look too cheap," said the young woman with the picture hat, her eyebrows contracting slightly. "Show me some of the best you've got."

"Yes ma'am," said the salesman. "May I ask how high you care to go?"

"Me? Oh, I only go to G, but I want one with all the octaves just the same."—Chicago Tribune.

They Needed Other Things

Like most minister's families, they were not exceedingly blessed with this world's goods. She, however, was the youngest of ten children until her father explained to her of the baby sister who had come in the night.

"Well," she said, after due thought. "I s'pose it's all right, papa, but there's many a thing we needed worse."—Delineator.

"That's a singular expression. He probably meant to say 'pearls.'"

THE DENVER FAMILY

Gen. James W. Denver, upper left; Matt Denver, upper right; Mrs. Matt Denver and daughters below.

DENVER, Colo., July 10—There is no more interesting figure in the democratic convention than that of Matthew R. Denver, who is one of the representatives at large from Ohio. Matt Denver's father, Gen. James W. Denver, is the man for whom Denver was named. The senior Denver was prominent politically and in a military way during the latter part of his life, and it was owing to his efforts in behalf of the territory, then known as Kansas, over which he was appointed governor in 1857, that Denver was named after him. Matt Denver is one of the most popular democrats in Ohio. His life history reads like a romance and now his name is frequently mentioned in connection with the temporary chairmanship of the democratic convention. Matthew Denver is one of those successful men who do things. His election to congress against fearful odds stamped him as a man of great force. Basing the nominal republican majority at 6,000, Matthew Denver swept it away, and when the votes were counted he was elected by a clean cut majority of nearly 1,200. Congressman Denver is now 38 years old and was born at Wilmington, Ohio. He is a graduate of Georgetown university. His wife is very popular among a large circle of friends in Ohio and is well and favorably known in Washington.

THE IRON LORD

A Hitherto Unpublished Story of Immense Power.

By S. R. CROCKETT.

(Copyrighted.)

Still, no one cried and not one refused the ordeal. Indeed, each stood to attention so soon as their own scrubbing was done, and enjoyed to the full the sufferings of their comrades—as good little Sunday-school children ought to do.

"Good and better!" thought Jacob Romer, as he halted a moment on his heel to peer through the gate of the playground. Whereupon a tall boy, acting the part of janitor and magnifying his office, shut the door in his face, but Jacob, for once nothing angered, only murmured, "She has enough firmness to manage children, what can a man wish for more?"

He congratulated himself that he was not the prey to any foolish sentiment, such as ignorant and youthful persons call "love." He never did anything more calmly in his life. He was suffering from a disease, that was all. He had diagnosed it, he had found the remedy, and now he was going to apply it.

He stepped all the way to the corner of the road, where Newcastle Highway ran long and straight to the horizon, with its length almost clear of the week-day traffic of wagons, and the pavements only encumbered by a few Sunday strollers, and belated school children in their best array.

He discovered that the street was named Ryan street, and so by a simple reasoning process the building which interested him would be called Ryan street Sunday-school.

"Good," he said, after a little, "I will go and look up that superintendent."

He fumbled in his pockets for a card. His name was a good introduction in Thorsby and the neighborhood. People were wont to look twice at a card with "Jacob Incubus Gorm Romer," upon it. He heard the hymn rise and fall, the scuffling hush of the prayer. Then to his ear came the scurry and drumming clatter of the classes dismissing to their work. He let this settle a bit, and then strolled to the door. With a roll-book and a sheaf of papers in his hand the Superintendent—a small, eager, black-eyed man—was bolting across the little bricked courtyard when Jacob stopped him, big and strong.

"You are the Superintendent of Ryan-street Sunday-school?" he asked. The quick, bird-like little man nodded, caught in mid-stride and slowly letting the arrested front-foot sink to the ground. Jacob put the card back in his pocket.

"Then, since we are face to face," he said, "I need not trouble you with this piece of pasteboard. I am Mr. Jacob Incubus Gorm Romer."

"Ah," said the Superintendent, flushing, "the nephew of—"

"Precisely," Jacob cut him short, recognizing him as a clerk and collector under the Thorsby Board of Guardians. "I have been much interested in your work here, having to pass this way to my uncle's offices from my rooms."

"Ah, indeed? Delighted! What can I do for you?"

The Superintendent scented afar off a subscription for struggling Ryan-street, and the nephew of their ground landlord was certainly not to be bowed to the door like the first comer.

"Would you like to see our work in action, sir?"

Jacob would, and in a minute he was being introduced to Miss French, "who so ably and conscientiously teaches our infant-class." As they went out Jacob, as if impressed by the long array of awe-struck chubby faces, all now clean, remarked: "That is a difficult task; who did you say was the young lady teacher?"

"She is a Miss French," said the Superintendent. "Her father is a retired country post-master and school-master. She has been well brought up, sir, and lives in Cliff Square."

"So I see, so I see," said Jacob, meditatively.

He glanced at the other departments, said some kind things as to arrangements, asked the Superintendent to allow him to send him a cheque in aid of the funds, and got a cheque more expeditiously than he thought he had captured a sympathetic listener for the whole hour and a half. He might even be persuaded to give them a little "closing address. The Superintendent was always on the lookout for new material of that sort.

But Jacob was gone, and Ryan street saw him no more, though he sent the cheque in due time—ill as, at the moment, he could afford it.

But he found his way to Cliff Square. He met Miss French on the Newcastle Road and, claiming acquaintance, walked home with her asking questions about her class. Her home proved to be a little eight-and-sixpenny cottage belonging to his uncle's firm, which, but for the cheapness of the rent and the fact that it was attached to a similar one on either side, would have been called itself a "villa," and so had its rent raised to ten-and-six.

Jacob was pleased with the ex-schoolmaster, equally so with his wife, both frail old folks. They were wrapped up in their daughter. Neither mixed with the neighbours, hardly knowing them even by sight, so carefully had they "kept themselves to themselves."

When he got out and was pacing slowly back, Jacob who never saw any difficulties and always looked well ahead, murmured only to himself: "Wood Green—yes, Wood Green would do."

And it turned out so. Step by step, as he planned the matter, the young man's imperious will drove the thing through. It was manifestly impossible to say a word to his uncle, who would have cut him off for a young fool making a misalliance. But Jacob knew better. He was no fool. He knew very well what he was doing. Wood Green was a little hamlet where property was cheap, three miles from Thorsby, but there was a railway station quite convenient. In the summer Jacob had the choice of returning by steamer to a pier within easy walking distance. Above all, it was also on the "other side of the water" from his irritable uncle.

As for the future of Caroline French, or her future interests, these did not matter. She was to step in the advancement of Jacob Romer. That, doubtless, should be sufficient for her.

CHAPTER X.

Jacob's Ladder to Success.
So the home was arranged, the marriage made. And so far as Jacob Romer was concerned the success of the venture was immediate and complete. He encountered the little house at Wood Green, the neat garden, the well-planned meals, and the kindly face of his young wife every night with a certain fresh surprise. They were a recently acquired part of his estate. Somewhat riskily he had invested in them, and he meant that they should yield him a certain definite return. Nor was he deceived.

In a month he could pass a race-course, or an array of swathed horses going out to the exercise paddock, without a quickening of the pulses. He even paid for admission one day to the Grand Stand at the Thorsby Spring Races, and came away without betting. He did this as a test case. Having won, he could certainly win all along the line. His purpose with Caroline, his wife, was therefore served.

Oh, of course, Jacob Romer would do what was right by his wife. Small fear of that—only, she must in all matters, great and small, submit herself to his imperial judgment as to what was best.

And this Caroline did. And not only for herself, but she so worked upon her father, the feeble, retired postmaster, and her mother, the silent housemistress, that from their lips came no murmur of complaint. Their daughter was married—well married—they told their friends. She lived at some distance, but came regularly to see them. No, it was not a rich marriage. The young man was a well-doing lad, and in time would do better. But for the present—well, no doubt it took the young folk all their time to make both ends meet.

All the while Caroline knew no more of her husband's affairs than if she had been the spaniel that yapped at his approach, and then hid from his uplifted cane under the red currant bushes, just now bursting into leaf. Some wives there are who do not wish to know such things—who take bite and sup, hearth fire and clothing, purse and payment as their right, without for a moment caring to know aught of the struggles, disappointments, angusts, and the long working hours which have produced for them these necessities and luxuries.

Caroline was not one of these. She would have sympathized with infinite zeal, though with little knowledge, if Jacob had deigned to tell her anything. But, as he did not, she was quite content to accept everything as "just Jacob's goodness." Her world, like the original one after the six days' creation, was "very good."

Specially was Caroline happy when little Vida Romer began to grow from a baby into a child. She had, of course, always loved her daughter—always given her the first place. But she had not let her husband see (or hear) too much of the small elflike thing who cried but seldom—but when she did, almost so as to as to rend the ceiling, screaming out her baby angers with clenched battering fists and features wiredrawn into a myriad puckers.

CARNIVAL COMES TO AN END TONIGHT

HAS BEEN SUCCESSFUL IN VIEW OF CONDITIONS

CAME ON THREE DAY'S NOTICE

Attractions Will Return to Minneapolis Where They Will be Distributed Over Vaudeville Circuit

Tonight is the last night of the north side carnival. The shows will pull up stakes and leave for Minneapolis, where the headquarters of the Booking association are located. These shows are not regular carnival attractions and they will be booked on different vaudeville circuits about the country.

The carnival has been a success
this year, but not as big a success as the previous year owing to the fact that the Patten company went "broke" and was unable to fill the engagement. Secretary Gibson of the North Side Amusement association, had three days in which to secure the shows. Secretary Gibson discovered that the Patten company was not at Eau Claire last week, and when inquiries were made it was found that the company had disbanded.

Mr. Gibson then made a hurried trip to Minneapolis and secured the attractions that are here on the three days' notice.

Stimulation Without Irritation
That is the watchword. That is what Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does. Cleanses and stimulates the bowels without irritation in any form. O. T. Erhart.

START NEW YARDS, MAYBE IN WEEK

There is considerable talk current in railroad circles that the work on the new yards on the Milwaukee will begin next week. The block on Charles street where the tracks cross was closed by the council last night so nothing remains but to start the work. There was a work train sent out for Tomah this morning. It is expected that the work there will be finished in a few days and the crew will be back and work on the filling in of the new yards.

WORKMAN IS OVER- COME BY HEAT

Otto Scheronman, a grate cleaner at the Milwaukee roundhouse was overcome with heat while cleaning the grates of an engine last night and his fellow workmen were compelled to go down into the firebox and life the stricken man out. He was taken to his home and medical assistance summoned. It is understood that he is resting easily this morning.

NORTH SIDE BRIEFS.

Mrs. O. H. McCarthy who has been visiting her son, J. H. McCarthy, has left for her home in Lanesboro.

Five freight and two passenger engines went through for the coast extension yesterday on the Milwaukee.
Engine 828 will haul trains numbers 1 and 56 on the River division in the future.

Walter West of St. Paul is visiting his parents on Avon street for a few days.

The booms at the bathhouse that were taken from their moorings the night before last were found up river securely tied. The man sent in search of them left them until they can be brought back where they belong. The heavy booms were evidently taken up stream in a launch.

Earl Higbee who has been visiting his parents on the North side, has left for Horicon, Wis.

Miss Grace Adlington of Viroqua is visiting at the home of D. H. Norton, 813 Caledonia street, for a few days.

Jerome Felzer has secured a position as brakeman on the Southern Minnesota division of the Milwaukee road.

Two train crews were pulled off
the "Q" on account of slack business.
Mrs. A. Yehle of 1411 Avon street is recovering from a rather serious illness.

Stewart and L. L. Murphy left for a ten days' fishing trip on their launch Agnes.

Mrs. Werner Hemstead and Miss Kitty Johnson left yesterday for their home in Brainerd, Minn., after visiting friends and relatives on the North side.

MICHIGAN TOWN IS FIRESWEPT

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 11.—The town of Riga, Mich., twenty miles northwest of here, is reported burning.

The blaze started in the Lake Shore railway grain elevator and fanned by a strong wind, swept the town. Eleven buildings were destroyed, with a loss of $500,000.

PEOPLE INSIST ON NEW PAVING

KANE STREET RESIDENTS NOT
"TIGHT WAD" VARIETY

COUNCIL ORDERS NEW BIDS

And if They are to be Satisfactory Work Will be Started on Macadam at Once

At the meeting of the council last evening the board of public works were authorized to adjust the tax of property owners in the paving of Kane street between Clinton and Logan streets and all the blocks on Charles street between Clinton and Gillette streets.

Estimates were made some time ago but the bids were too high and the council dropped the matter. The people on the streets mentioned were willing to pay the difference so the council ordered a new estimate to be made and if it is reasonable and approximately the amount estimated the work will be commenced at once.

If the contract is let this time the work will be pushed and an effort will be made to get the streets done this year. The people concerned in the matter are eager to have the paving done as the rest of Kane street is about completed and the residents want paving the entire length without any breaks.

MANY INVADE PUBLIC BATH

Although the public baths have not been officially opened by the city a large number of swimmers are making daily trips to the baths and enjoying a swim. Secretary Robarge who is in charge of the baths stated today that the river was still too high to attempt to open he baths and unless the river recedes the baths will not be opened, as at the present stage of the river it is considered dangerous for bathers.

The current near the baths is said to be the stiffest in several years and it would be very dangerous to attempt to open the baths.

A number are enjoying the shores along the Y. M. C. A. camp for swimming and every day large numbers make for the camp.

FINGERS CUT IN TIN MACHINE

A. W. Koehn, an employee of the La Crosse Corral and Ceiling company, met with a painful accident at the mactory this morning. He was cutting a large piece of tin and the knife slipped, cutting a deep gash in his hand.

He was taken to the office of Dr.
Maurer where it was found that two of his fingers were nearly severed from the hand. The wound was dressed, however, and it is hoped that the injured members may be saved. He was later removed to his home.

TIRED DELEGATES LEAVING DENVER

over from Lincoln and that the faithful should wait for the big show, with the formal entree of the candidate as the leading feature, but dispatches from Lincoln announced that Mr. Bryan had no intention of visiting Denver at this time, and with heavy footsteps, bleared eyes, husky voices and limp and sagging enthusiasm the hosts began to evacuate the convention city.

Two-thirds of the convention crowd had left the city before midnight last night. The others will go as fast as they can secure trains. Which is no reflection on Denver, but born merely of a desire to get away at a proper perspective and look back calmly over the events of the past four days and speculate on their significance.

Kern is Named.
Alabama yielded to Indiana and Thomas R. Marshall, the Democratic candidate for governor of Indiana, took the platform to nominate Kern.
Loud peals of thunder rang over the hall, preceding an electric storm, as Marshall, cheered lustily by the Indiana delegation, began his address.

Kern's name failed to provoke any general demonstration. While the Indiana delegates were on their feet cheering, the thunder again came rolling over from the distant peaks.
If Democrats were superstitious this might be regarded by them as an omen.

Colorado Names Towne.

Arkansas followed the lead of Alabama and indorsed the former's action. When Colorado was reached, former Gov. Thomas took the platform to put before the convention the name of Charles A. Towne.

Towne's name received a much more cordial reception than that of Kern, but in neither case did the cheering reach the proportions of a demonstration.

J. J. Walsh of Connecticut followed to present the name of Archibald McNeill of Bridgeport.

Charles F. Murphy, J. Sergeant Cram and Lewis Nixon entered the hall just after Mr. Walsh began to speak and were greeted with a round of applause.

McNeill's name failed to create any enthusiasm.

Clark Howell Nominated.

The call of Delaware awakened interest—that being the state of Gray.
Irving Handy, who placed Gray in nomination for the presidency last night in a notable and prophetic speech, yielded to Georgia and Hill of that state put before the convention the name of Clark Howell.

Florida yielded to Missouri and Gov. Joseph W. Folk took the platform. Folk got the first real demonstration of the day. Cries of "Folk for vice-president," and "He's all right," rang over the hall.

The tribute to Folk was general,
coming from every section of the auditorium and being plainly of a spontaneous character. Pleased and gratified, Folk stood smiling on the platform, waiting for the ovation to terminate. Folks, in whose interests a boom had been started, seconded the nomination of Kern, and the band played "On the Banks of the Wabash."

J. Ham Lewis in Chair.

Idaho seconded Towne's nomination, and then J. Hamilton Lewis of Chicago assumed the chair and recognized the "Hon. Roger Sullivan."
The latter sent Fred Kern of Belleville, Ill. took the platform. Up to the last line of his speech Kern seemed to be putting in nomination the name of John Mitchell, former president of the Mine Workers of America.

Mitchell Gets Ovation.

The name of Mitchell took. The convention rose and cheered as Kern paid an eloquent tribute to Mitchell and then, sweeping off suddenly, announced that Mitchell positively declined to stand as a candidate and Illinois therefore would vote for Kern of Indiana.

Heflin of Alabama, whom the crowd refused to hear Thursday night, got a better hearing and seconded the nomination.

Wade of Iowa seconded Kern for his state. Kansas announced that she had wanted Mitchell, but would be satisfied with any one. James of Kentucky seconded Kern for the Blue Grass state. Lee of Maryland seconded Towne's nomination. James resumed the chair after having put his state in line for Kern. Minnesota revived the drooping hopes of New England by going to the McNeill camp.

Mississippi raised the Kern banner.
Nevada went over to Towne. Kern captured New Hampshire. New Jersey passed and a buzz went over the house when New York was called.

No New York Candidate.

Murphy arose in his place, deep silence fell and the Tammany leader said:
"New York has no candidate."
There died the Gaynor boom, the Nixon, the Towne, the Harrison and all the other Empire state booms that have added to the gayety of the convention.

Gen. Hildreth of North Dakota seconded the nomination of Kern of Indiana. Ohio followed suit, as did Oklahoma. Mr. Jenkins of the state of Pennsylvania seconded the nomination of Kern. South Dakota announced herself for Towne.

When Texas was called, Tom Ball took the platform. Texas had been for Gray and he said so. But Texas was advised that Gray would not accept, therefore Texas fell in line for Kern and that practically settled it.
Handy of Delaware informed the convention it was through no discontent that Judge Gray would not accept and produced a telegram from Gray.

Then came Towne in a speech and made the nomination of Kern unanimous.

Hill of Georgia then withdrew the name of Howell; Utah seconded Kern; Virginia presented former

GOV. CLAUDE A. SWANSON AND THE STATE CAPITOL OF VIRGINIA

Old Virginia, the mother of presidents, is to take an important part in the Democratic councils at Denver. Her governor, Claude A. Swanson, is to second Bryan's nomination and will be on hand to carry out the wishes of his home state in regard to the platform and other questions which come up before the Democratic convention.

The title of "M'Wother of Presidents" was gained by Virginia many years ago and during recent years it could hardly be accredited with this title, but now Virginia is proud of her strong governor and enters the Democratic convention as an important factor. Virginia can always be depended upon for a strong majority by the Democrats when it comes to national politics. Four years ago Nominee Parker carried Virginia by a vote of 80,638 over Roosevelt's 46,450. It is claimed by some close to the political pulse of Virginia that Bryan will be able to carry the state by an even greater majority.

Governor Swanson is a thorough Virginia product, having been born, educated and connected in business in this state. He is a lawyer by profession and a graduate of the law department of the University of Virginia. He lives at Chatham, Va.

Gov. J. Hodge Tyler to speak for her.
He seconded Kern after a complimentary eulogy of Conrad of Montana. Higgins, the democratic governor of Rhode Island, "with the consent of Connecticut," seconded Kern.
Lentz of Ohio handed the delegates of that state to Kern and his nomination was made unanimous.

EPITILE HIDDEN IN HAY

It Made a Dash for the Auditorium, but the Scales Attendance Got to it With a Big Stick

While examining a load of hay on the market square yesterday afternoon, Joseph Schmalen, a farmer living south of the city, put his hand into the center of the load to ascertain the condition of the hay, and when he pulled his hand out he was surprised to find a large "rattler" in the handful of hay.

He dropped the hay, rattler and everything and started on a dead heat for other parts.

The snake, which was a genuine rattler, about four feet long, started slowly to make its way to the auditorium, with the assistants at the scales hot after the reptile with clubs.
William Owen, assistant at the scales, finally landed a good blow on the head of the snake and put it out of business just before it was about to crawl under the auditorium.

The hay belonged to John Schmidt, a farmer residing near Dakota, Minn. They report that it is no uncommon to find snakes in loads of hay, especially in new hay.

of dollars in the Batavian National bank of this city, left by superior insane by Drs. Herman T. Wolf and

He was found to be temporarily insane and will be committed to the Miller was picked up by the police several days ago, when he was found acting queer and telling every one of

HOW THE TAFT CLUB
GOT U. C. T. LISTS

INVESTIGATION INTO ORDER'S
SUPPORT OF CANDIDAE

FRATERNITY NOT BEHIND IT

Committee Makes Report on "Trick" of Boomers Which Caused Wide Discontent

Local members of the United Commercial Travelers have received the official report of the committee appointed to investigate the "U. C. T.
Taft Club," which sent circulars to the members of the order throughout the country, purporting to be the order's official sanction of the republican candidate.

This apparent political influence in the order was resented by the members as it contained men of all political creeds. A remonstrance which shook the order resulted in the investigation, which brought the following report, received by local members of the order today:

"Your special committee, appointed for the investigation of the Commercial Travelers' Taft club letter, has earnestly and painstakingly searched for every item of facts in connection therewith, and do find that about April, 1907, it became apparent that the rubber type addressograph used for addressing envelopes at supreme headquarters for the members of the order, was becoming inadequate for their growing requirements.

"The executive committee delegated Assistant Supreme Secretary Snif-fen to investigate the merits of a new metal plate addressing machine.
No action at that time was taken.
That later, Assistant Supreme Secretary Sniffen was delegated to the Georgia, Fla., grand council and on his way was instructed to stop at New York and investigate new addressing systems. On receipt of his report, the supreme executive committee authorized said assistant secretary to purchase the new style addressograph metal plate machine, exchanging therefore the old machine to the best financial interest of the Order. The contract was executed on a basis of a price of $450.00 to be allowed for the old machine. Assistant Supreme Secretary Sniffen deemed this allowance too small and reserved the right to dispose of the machine to the best advantage possible, it being his idea that the names on the machine might be sold to the subordinate councils at a higher but mutually profitable price.
A sum of somewhere about $150.00 realized by this method.

"One Alvah J. Pray, a brother member of the U. C. T., has for years been an intimate friend of Assistant Supreme Secretary Sniffen, and who has heretofore borne a most excellent reputation for truth and veracity, believing that he could dispose of the old addressograph to his financial advantage, took an option from said Sniffen at a price of $650.00.

"About January 30, at 7:30 a. m., Sniffen, at his home, was telephoned from the U. C. T. supreme headquarters that a team had been sent to take the addressograph from the headquarters. He advised them to await his coming and on his arrival at headquarters advised Supreme Secretary Daniel that owing to said Pray having become prominent with the Commercial Travelers' Taft club,
he (Sniffen) deemed it inadvisable to allow said Pray to remove said addressograph without a positive assurance that the list of names would not be used except in accordance with the by-laws of the order. This assurance was given. It should be remembered that said Pray is a member of the order and should be expected to guard the interests of the order as jealously as any member of its supreme body. It appears, beyond a reasonable doubt, that said Pray, however, not only used this machine to send out the circular letters from the Commercial Travelers' Taft club, but it appears that he has also sold the list of names to outsiders.

"The committee understands that charges have been preferred against said A. J. Pray in Columbus council, No. 1, and has no doubt that full justice will be done.

"This committee has gone through all of the correspondence and in addition has examined fourteen witnesses, including Brother J. E. Sater, and no pains have been spared to attain the truth and the whole truth regarding this transaction, and with malice toward none, but with charity for all, but with a firm determination that justice be done, we feel that the supreme office was lax in its business methods by allowing the old machine to be removed from headquarters without first throwing down the type, thereby removing any possibility of anyone obtaining a list of names and addresses of members of this organization, and while we are convinced, beyond a doubt, that this blunder was committed without any thought or intent to injure or violate the law of this order, yet we feel that the office force is deserving of a reprimand for this lax way of conducting business. We feel that the supreme executive committee, whose duties are to have a direct supervision over affairs of the order, in this particular case, have been derelict in their duties, and in connection with the assistant supreme secretary, deserve the censure of this supreme body.

"Your committee feels, however,

A light! A puff! A smile!

SUPREME COURT TO HEAR RY. QUERY

MUST HARRIMAN ANSWER THE QUESTIONS PUT

COMMERCE COMMISSION CASE

Much Depends Upon the Outcome of this Litigation as it Decides the Commission's Power

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—The United States supreme court docket is already teeming with important cases wherein the government is concerned which are set down for hearing on the first day of the October term. While it will be impossible, of course, to hear all these cases on the opening day of the term, they will be submitted as speedily as possible after the opening day.

One of these cases that will attract great interest is that of Harriman vs. the interstate commerce commission. Two other cases are connected with it, those of Kohn vs. the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission vs. Harriman. This is the controversy arising out of the refusal of Harriman to answer in New York certain questions which the commission propounded to him. The decision of the rights of Harriman and of the commission in this instance will go far to define the commission's authority in the matter of probing into railroad financial transactions.

The case of William Gordon Crawford vs. the United States brings up once more the frauds in the post-office department, in which August Machen, Beavers and others were concerned. Crawford was one of those involved and was convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government in violation of section 5440. He has appealed and the case goes to the supreme court on certiorari.

Among the cases on the docket are those of McAndrews & Fortes company vs. the United States and J. S. Young company vs. the United States. These are the tobacco trust cases and the decision of the appeals by the supreme court will determine the validity of indictments charging conspiracy in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman law.

Then, there are the cases of the Chicago & Alton vs. the United States, Felthorn vs. the United States and Wann vs. the United States in which appeals are taken following successful prosecution in the lower courts for violations of the Elkins act against rebating. The case of the New York Central vs. the United States in which the government brought criminal suit for rebating on sugar, winning in the lower courts, is among those on the docket. In the case of the United States vs. F. W. Keitel et al. is involved the validity of an indictment charging conspiracy to defraud the government out of coal lands in Colorado. Connected with this, are several other cases alleging conspiracy to defraud the government out of timber lands in Colorado.

Appeals will be heard in cases arising from suits by the government to enjoin the leading express companies of the country from issuing franks to employees and exchanging them with other companies for the use of their officials and employees. The government maintains this is in violation of the interstate commerce law.

ROOSEVELT'S PEN TO BRING FORTUNE

NEW YORK, July 11.—The price Charles Scribner's Sons will pay President Roosevelt for his account of his hunting trip through the African jungle is the highest ever given to an author for a work of similar length.

Not only will the president receive a lump sum of between $50,000 and $75,000 for the serial privileges, but he will also get a high royalty on the book into which the magazine articles will be incorporated. It was learned on good authority that this royalty is not lower than 25 per cent on gross sales, and is probably as high as 30 per cent.

"I see no objection to making public the fact that we will publish the president's story of his adventures in Africa," said Charles Scribner. "The details of the arrangements will have to come from Oyster Bay, however. The articles will run serially in Scribner's Magazine and then will be published in book form. There will be from eight to twelve installments, each of them from 6,000 to 8,000 words. The price we are paying is, I believe, the highest paid for any magazine series."

When questioned about the royalties he said:
"We are giving President Roosevelt more than the ordinary royalties, of course. They are not the highest ever paid, however. We expect tremendous sales, so that in all probability the amount the president will receive from royalties will exceed that from any other single work."

REBELS WILL BUY MUNITIONS OF WAR

KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 11.—Gen. Philippe and ex-Minister Hudebras, exiled from Hayti by order of President Nord Alexis, arrived here from Porto Rico. They say the object of Gen. Firmin, leader of the Haytian revolutionary party, in visiting Europe is to purchase ammunition and two gunboats aided by which the revolutionists will make another attempt to overthrow the Haytian government.

COMMISSION DECIDES RATES ARE UNREASONABLE

USED FISH BOXES 4TH CLASS

New York Fish Company's Protest Against Rates of "T" May Result in a Revised Schedule

MADISON, Wis., July 11.—(Special.)—In a decision in the case of the New York Fish company of La Crosse vs. the Burlington road, the railroad rate commission found the present rates charged for returning empty fish boxes unreasonable and reduced the classification. The decision suggests that the entire western classification will be revised.

The decision held that fish boxes, new, for shipment between points in Wisconsin in less than carload lots are second class, and in carloads, fourth class, the minimum weight to be 24,000 pounds, and that second-hand fish boxes returned from any points in Wisconsin in any quantity are fourth class.

Get After Minors.
On the recommendation of the mayor, the city clerk was authorized to have enough cards printed to be distributed in all the saloons in the city stating the state law regarding the misrepresentation of minors over 18 years old. The law prohibits them from misrepresenting their age and the penalty for the offence being from $1 to $15 or ten days in the county jail.

Dogs' Foe's Ordinance.
Alderman Marvin of the North side offered an amendment to the ordinance covering the license of canines, increasing the license fee from $1 to $3 for male dogs and from $2 to $5 for female dogs. The matter was referred to the committee on ordinance and the health department.

A petition was read from the property owners asking that an area light be placed on the corner of Sixteenth and Farnam streets and the matter was referred to the committee on lights.

A resolution providing for the improvement of Hager street from Mill street to Rose street was referred to the committee on streets and alleys. A bill of $100 for expenses incurred during the Memorial day of the G. A. R. was allowed.

The board of public works was authorized to view the property affected by the macadamizing with granite top dressing on Charles street from Clinton to Gillette streets and on Kane street from Clinton to Logan streets. The streets were ordered paved some time ago but when the bids were advertised and opened they were above the estimates and turned down.

A resolution providing that the board of public works purchase amount of crushed rock for the improvement of streets was referred.

A resolution was adopted fixing July 30 as the date for the annual picnic of the city officials and the mayor was authorized to appoint a committee of five to arrange the plans.

The La Crosse Boot and Shoe company were granted permission to erect an addition to their building, Second and State streets.

A resolution was read authorizing improvements on station No. 2 of the police department, granting artesian water and cement floors and other improvements. The improvements were granted all except the artesian water, which was refused.

The matter of installing sanitary stalls in fire station No. 2 on the North side was re-referred to the committee on buildings.

Howard Case

Judge Fruit was busy today hearing testimony in the case of Jane Dale against Joseph Dale, an action of divorce from Trempealeau county, the parties residing near Galesville. Ex-Senator John Gaveney of Arcadia and W. S. Wadleigh of Galesville appear for Mrs. Dale and R. Trosma of Galesville and Morris & Hartwell of this city for Mr. Dale.

The parties have agreed that a divorce may be granted and the testimony is all on the question of how much of Mr. Dale's estate shall be given to Mrs. Dale. There is personal property, according to the testimony, amounting to $2,500 belonging to Mr. Dale now outside of what he has already given. Mrs. Dale. Besides this a farm, the estimated value of which is from $4,500 to $6,500 is involved. A large number of Trempealeau county witnesses were called.

It is expected that a petition will be made to the supreme court to remove Howard back to La Crosse county in the custody of Sheriff Burns spending the appeal.

PULLMAN PORTER ASSAULTS GIRL

DENVER, Colo., July 11.—Charles Reed, a negro Pullman porter, was beaten and narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of passengers on a Burlington train, following an attack by him on Ethel Schlegel, a 15 year old daughter of Mrs. William Schlegel of Belleville, Ill.

While the train was running at the rate of fifty miles an hour Reed dragged the girl into a dressing room in the car, whence, after a struggle, she managed to escape. She staggered into the aisle of the car and fainted.

Seeing the negro emerge from the compartment, the passengers surmising what had occurred, beat and kicked him until he fell unconscious. When the train reached here Reed was arrested and placed in jail.

IOWA MAYOR IN OLD MONASTERY

DUBUQUE, Ia., July 11.—Mayor H. A. Schunk, saloon man and politician, who disappeared recently, was found in the Trappist monastery, eighteen miles from here.

Troubles in legal and political affairs are assigned as the cause for the official's desire to shun the world.

It is stated he is following out the rigid discipline of the monks, arising at 2 a. m. and attending strictly to devotions prescribed by the order.

Simultaneously with Mr. Schunk's disappearance there was filed a suit for an injunction by ex-Ald. Joseph Needham seeking to enjoin the mayor from operating the liquor store run in his name while discharging the duties of mayor.

It was charged that the mayor violated the mulet law in that his place of business was kept open on June 2, an election day, in violation of the law. Mr. Schunk's son-in-law and son are co-defendants as members of the H. A. Schunk Liquor company.

BRYAN WHISTLES AS HE HEARS STORIES

LINCOLN, Neb., July 11.—Bryan sat on the front porch and whistled "La Poloma" today and listened to the stories of how it all happened. Delegates and visitors from the national convention began pouring into Lincoln today all anxious to shake hands with the candidate for president, and relate the exciting doings at the Denver meeting.

The first crowd to arrive was the Cook county Democratic club of Chicago, headed by Bobby Burke and Judge William Prentice. In a short address to the visitors Bryan paid a tribute to John W. Kern, his running mate, to the platform and to the publicity plank. Toward noon Bryan took a nap. This afternoon he will receive and address the returning Tammany delegates at the station. Tuesday he will receive the new national committee.

MICHAEL MURPHY DIES AT HOSPITAL

Michael Murphy of Kendalls died last night at the St. Francis hospital from peritonitis. The deceased was 62 years old and leaves a widow and nine children. The widow and one son were with him at the time of his death and accompanied the remains to Kendalls on the noon train today. The funeral will be held in that city. William Dwyer is in charge.

TRANSPORTATION NOTICE

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—Pursuant to an act of congress the interstate commerce commission today issued regulations for the safe transportation of explosives over railroad.

MAGAZINE FAKIRS NABBED BY POLICE

SOLD MEMBERSHIPS IN THE
"UNITED PUBLISHERS' ASSN."

GULLED PROMINENT MEN

Promised Leading Magazines Upon the Payment of $2.00 and Wexed Fat on Profits

Two smooth grafters with the old rag of giving something for a little better price than local news stands, were picked up by the police and are now being held at the central station awaiting trial on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

They are Sam Moorhead and Jeanne De Roa, according to the names they have given to the police headquarters. Jeanne De Roa was arrested last evening by Desk Sergeant Frank Yoltin in the postoffice. Yoltin accosted the woman in the corridor of the postoffice and asked if she was an agent for a magazine concern. The woman answered in the negative, but nevertheless the chief had given orders that she must submit to an interview and after being taken to the police station she was unable to give any satisfactory excuse. Moorhead, who signs his name on the receipts as S. A. Moore, was arrested by Detective McGraw and the goods were found on his person.

Both the prisoners were well dressed and put up a good appearance, and according to what can be learned found some of the most influential business men in the city, attorneys, doctors and numerous others to donate $2.

Their proposition seems to be that if you present $2 to the "The United Publishers' association" it entitled you to one year's membership in that organization with privileges to the special rates and one year's subscription to several of the prominent magazines. They had credentials and "sure shots" with them and gathered a neat little sum while in La Crosse.

The address of the company is supposed to be 372 Fifth avenue, New York, but the police have been unable to locate any such number or company. The police have been notified that the clever couple have worked a number of cities in this section, large and small.

They will be arraigned before Judge Brindley this afternoon or Monday.

Morehead Pleads Guilty

Morehead was taken before Judge Brindley at noon today and pleaded guilty to the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses and was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail. His accomplice, Jeanne De Roa, who goes by the name also of Miss M. S. Landon, was arraigned, but her case was adjourned until Monday morning.

The two have been working over the entire eastern part of the United States for the past three years. Their arrest yesterday was the first in their career.

YALE SPORTS WERE NOT PROFITABLE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 11.—Athletes at Yale university paid poorly during the year of 1906-07, according to the annual reports of the various sports made by the financial union through the Yale Alumni week, the profits being only $600 as compared with $18,007 the previous year. The reserve fund now amounts to $113,429.

Of the sports the money maker is football, for the receipts from this sport were $64,151 and the expenses $41,251; baseball took in $25,054 and paid out $20,043. The two other major sports, rowing and track athletics, show a loss, as usual, the boat club collecting $2,527, while its expenses were $16,367, and athletics took in $1,855 and cost $13,495.

The total receipts for the year were $93,588, as compared with $106,129 the previous year.

MURPHY SAYS N. Y. IS FOR MR. BRYAN

DENVER, Colo., July 11.—Charles F. Murphy of New York after the adjournment of the convention said:

"I am entirely satisfied with the work of the convention. Its enthusiasm, confidence, and harmony were its distinguishing features. There can be no doubt the candidate nominated were the first choice of a large majority of the delegates and that the platform is a declaration of the principles the delegates heartily endorse. To both platform and ticket the democracy of New York will give sincere, united, and, I believe, most effective support."

"The grateful thanks of every delegate are due to the people of Denver for the marked hospitality with which every visitor was treated and the sacrifices made by the city's people for the comfort and convenience of visitors."

SEND WARSHIP TO HONDURAS TODAY

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—An American vessel will probably be sent to Port Amalpa on the Pacific coast of Honduras, to investigate reports that Honduras revolutionists are pushing forward in that direction with a view of capturing the city. This action was decided upon by the state department today on receipt of dispatches concerning the situation in Central America. No apprehension is felt that the Honduras revolution is likely to involve any other republics.

MISS SOLON HAS A RARE VOICE

SAENGERFEST SOLOIST IS A WISCONSIN GIRL

HAD MET MARKED SUCCESS

Leading Lyric Soprano Engaged by the committee Spontaneously When They Heard Her Sing

Miss Estelle Solon of Minneapolis, known as Wisconsin's sweetest singer, who is one of the soprano soloists engaged for the coming saengerfest, is a Wisconsin girl, having been born in the southern part of the state. Her musical education was obtained principally in Chicago and New York city, where she sang fifth marked success in concerts and held soloist positions in prominent churches during her years of study. She is a graduate of the Chicago Auditorium Conservatory and of the American school of opera at New York. Miss Solon's vocal teachers were Miss Beatrice Peixotto, of Paris, a Marchese pupil, and Mme. DuBois Hagen, a favorite grand opera singer of Italy for many years, who made her debut under Signor Giovanni di Milan, Italy.

The New York Herald, the Chicago

where she attended school and grew to girlhood. Even as a little girl she was the recipient of much adulation from an admiring public in Superior and later from Duluth people. On account of the devotion shown her by the people of these two cities she scarcely knows whether to call herself a daughter of Wisconsin or of Minnesota, and claims both as her home states.

That Miss Solon is a young artist of great promise is attested by the fact that the manager of one of the famous European opera companies which visited American shores this season heard her sing and assured her that her voice is one of the few fitted for a grand opera career and is a pure lyric soprano of the finest quality. He advised her to come east at once where he could superintend her preparation for the opera and select the solos best adapted to her.

Engaged by Committee.

It was not until the month of June that the Saengerfest committee and the musical board heard Miss Solon sing and they were spontaneous in their decision and she was chosen unanimously for the Saengerfest program. Miss Solon was requested to come to the Park store where the committee would give her a trial and if they found her satisfactory they would engage her. Her accompanist refused to let her sing there as the place was not for such an effort. The party went to the Elks hall where Miss Solon sang a selection. Although she had promised to sing three to decide, when she had finished one song the committee crowded around her and she go Musical Leader and the Chicago American speak in glowing terms of her singing as does the press of other cities, where she has appeared. Among other things the New York Herald states that Reginald de Koven said after hearing her sing the "Micaela" in Carmen, that she had a voice of the kind that was seldom heard outside of the metropolitan Opera house.

Miss Solon has toured the east in professional concert work and has completed a successful season of chautauqua engagements in the states of Colorado, Nebraska and the Dakotas under the management of the Redpath bureau. Miss Solon has sung for several of the world famous musicians of the day and has received their praise and encouragement for the future that is before her in the operatic field.

Began in Superior. This talented young singer began singing in public at a very early age in her home town of Superior, Wis.,

was immediately engaged before she had sung the other two.

Miss Solon is to appear at one matinee and at two evening grand concerts on July 24th and 25th. The Milwaukee Symphony orchestra will accompany her and her selections will be a beautiful Italian spring song, "Voci di Prima Vera," by Strauss which was sung by Mme. Sembrick on her American concert tour last season. The melodious "Caro Nome," from Verdi's "Rigoletto" and for the final grand concert a magnificent German concert air by Mendelssohn.

La Crosse welcomes Miss Solon's appearance at the Saengerfest with keen anticipation and interest as she made many friends here during the few days she spent in the city last month, who hope to have her for a frequent visitor.

WELCOME TO ALL VISITING SINGERS

ADOLPH CANDRIAN INVITES GERMANS TO COME

INVITED TO GRAND FESTIVAL

Local German Journalist Tells Courtyemen Gateway City is Ready to Receive Them

Mr. Adolph Candrian, the well known German journalist of La Crosse has issued the following address of welcome to singers throughout the territory from which visitors will come to the big local saengerfest.

Editor Candrian says:

"Today we approach the period when, 42 years ago—it was on July 17th, 1866—the 'Saengerbund des Nordwestens' was organized in our beloved city, and where its cradle stood. Rapidly the years since have come and passed, and this month, July 23-26, 1908, the Bund celebrates its great biennial singing festival in La Crosse for the fifth time. Our good city, as mecca of the great singers congregation, has always nobly done its part, and it will do so again this time, not only in the same creditable manner as before, genial and warm hearted, but grander, more brilliantly, with more general enthusiasm and hospitality than ever before.

"The Saengerbund has celebrated its great festivals in larger cities, but most assuredly not in more bewitchingly attractive places than La Crosse, notably at this season of the year when it can present itself in its most lovely garb. Nestling close to the bosom of the mighty river, amidst an enchanting panorama of water view and landscape scenery, framed by majestic bluffs, on its extensive high plateau La Crosse commands the most distinguished location in the whole gigantic realm of the Mississippi valley region. In one word, the location of our city can be designated as one favored by the gods themselves, and in conformity with it our city's entire population bears the stamp of liberality, broad-mindedness and generosity. Founded and developed by Germans, La Crosse carries the impress of its German origin to its innermost core, and none who ever shared its hospitality speak aught than in high praise of it.

"Since its first festival here 42 years ago the Saengerbund has grown—but La Crosse has also kept pace with the time and its progress, and it is now fully in condition fitly to receive the more numerous concourse of visitors and to take good care of them, with olden hospitality and cordiality, though in a new generation and under widely different conditions.

"Truly, the 42 years have created manifold new conditions, in La Crosse as everywhere else, for time is ever busy at its loom. The sinister spirit of know-nothingism and intolerance, which threatens our whole country with its baneful influence, has cast its dark shadows even on to us, and the 'Saengerfest Zeitung' has carried the news of the pre-natal difficulties of our municipal auditorium to the Bund members everywhere. But with bold determination our German-American citizens took hold of the rudder, and said: 'If we, in spite of our victory at the voting polls, cannot attain a city auditorium, we will construct, right in the very center of La Crosse, a hall for the saengerfest exclusively our own, and from its pinnacle at the great festival a banner shall be waving in the breeze, containing the lofty challenge: "Built by the Germans of La Crosse."

"This mighty hall is now completed, and ready for the great festival of the singers and the grand choruses, ready for the enchanting harmonies of immortal music, created by German genius and touching the innermost human heart strings like nothing else on earth could touch them and bring forth their response. The walls of this mighty structure will resound with the master melodies of classical German music, which in its triumphant march throughout the civilized world meets neither its equal nor its peer.

"On a former occasion I said in the 'Abendstern': 'To this music festival the singers from near and far will flock in black numbers to La Crosse, and they will make "Rome howl." In other words, they will come and help to fortify the stronghold, not with weapons of ill will or malice, but with the peaceful conquest of German song and German music. They again will demonstrate to their adversaries, here and elsewhere, that a German saengerfest is not a Falstaffian drinking bout. They will, in short, come to La Crosse, sing and conquer!" "The proverbial 'Dutchman' in America has now changed his attire for good, and is not wearing wooden shoes any more. He begins to realize his strength, his wealth, his influence, and he is just commencing to devote himself to his higher purposes. He has fin all seriousness begun to try out the long dreamed of German unity and harmony, so victorious among his nationality across the sea, and in the same direction he is quite likely to attain victories in good German-American over here.

"All over America the German element begins to close its ranks. From the very period of strife and laborious development of this now great republic, Germanism has impressed itself upon this country's history, deeper even than the Anglo-American realize it or their historians are willing to admit. But the mission of the Germans in this country is not yet fulfilled, far from it. There yet remains the task of standing abreast of liberty's active forces, protesting this bulwark of freedom from degenerating into a law-tutored and law-enforced nation of political serfs; And in this internal battle for real freedom, Germanism is the fittest leader. May in this march towards so high a goal this saengerfest be one of the most memorable periods.

"Congregate for this festival, singers from near and far, La Crosse bids you welcome a hundred times over.

"With singers' greeting, "ADOLPH CANDRIAN."

Head of Saengerbund Has Traveled Over Entire Territory and Says They Are All Coming Here

STRONG LETTER BIDS ALL COME

To further advertise the already widely known saengerfest, Harry C. Whittier, chairman of the publicity committee of the "Fest" has written letters to prominent people in different cities both near and far telling of the merits of the event and urging them to attend. He also requests them to send to him the names of ten friends who might be induced to go in order that he might send them programs of the saengerfest and other literature concerning the treat that they will not be able to resist the temptation to come. These letters will undoubtedly fill the bill and prove a success as in this manner the advertising committee will be able to reach many people and induce them to attend. The letter issued is as follows:

"Your secretary, Mr. Franz Paul Liedl, has sent your name to us as a member of the Liederkranz of your city. We have mailed you already some literature regarding the coming saengerfest to be held at La Crosse July 23 to 26 inclusive, and we want to impress upon you and every member of your society, the importance and magnitude of the coming fest to be held on the above dates. We believe it will prove to be one of the most interesting affairs of its kind ever held in America. La Crosse is stirred to its very depths with enthusiasm for the occasion and she has fairly outdone herself in preparation for the reception of the thousands of visitors who will soon be her most welcome guests.

"There is now almost completed a monster auditorium built on a large public square of the city, which for immensity and acoustic properties is not to be outdone anywhere in the middle west. Professional speakers, noted musicians and leading artists have inspected the building and unanimously pronounce it acoustically perfect.

"We want you to come and hear that great chorus of over two thousand voices accompanied by Bach's Milwaukee Symphony orchestra of sixty pieces which will fill that vast auditorium and rise above it to the canopy of the very skies in the vaults of the heavens, flooding the ether above with its music and affording a spectacle seldom witnessed in this country.

"Among the artists who will appear will be the Prima Donna Soprano, Miss Anna Hickisch-Howland, late from London, England; Miss Estelle Solon, Soprano, Minneapolis; Miss Carrie Seyferth, alto, of Milwaukee; Wm. A. Andersch, baritone, late from Vienna, and Mr. E. O. Forseth, baritone, of La Crosse.

"I need hardly tell you also that La Crosse is fairly outdoing herself in the way of preparations for the entertainment of her visitors during the fest. Every citizen of this beautiful city, so prettily situated on the banks of the great 'Father of Waters,' is vying, each with the other, in methods of hospitality to be extended our guests; and we can assure you, sir, that the freedom of this busy bustling little metropolis with all it contains, will be yours.

"We are preparing, not only a most glorious musical feast for the visiting societies, their members and friends, who honor us with their presence at this time, but we have many delightful outside surprises on tap, and hundreds of special 'stunts' in the course of preparation, which will be sprung so fast upon you that it will keep you busy enjoying them.

In short, the coming great Saengerfest at La Crosse will be the jolliest demonstration of its sort you ever knew. We cannot tell you of all the good times in store for you and your friends, but will only say that the whole city and country-side hereabouts is stirred up as never before with enthusiasm in preparation for your entertainment. Come, and you will not regret the coming. Say away, and you will kick yourself for the remainder of your life for missing the best time in your existence. Come and bring your friends. Come in the greatest possible numbers. You will be carefully taken care of and tenderly nursed, if need be.

In closing, I am going to ask one personal favor of you, viz.: that you will send to me at the earliest possible moment the names of ten of your friends or acquaintances whom you think might be induced to come along with you—and we will send to them such temptations in the way of literature, programs, etc., of the coming fest, that they will not be able

BEHRENS PRAISES COMMITTEE WORK

IS ASSURED OF SUCCESS OF LA CROSSE FEST

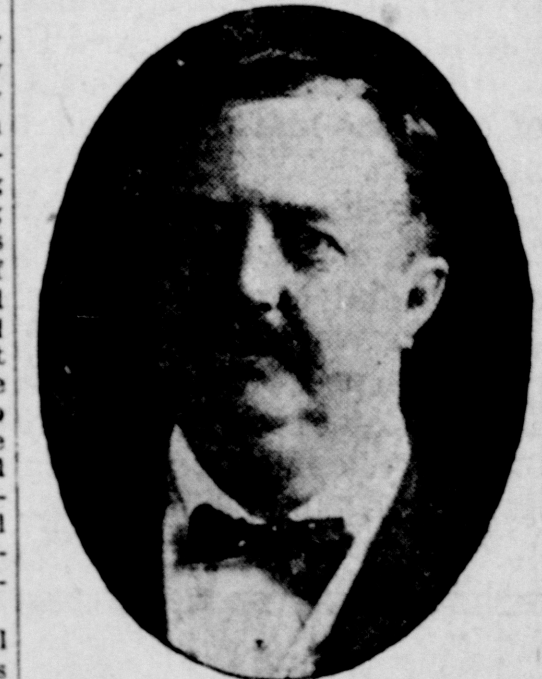

ALL CITIES ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

Head of Saengerbund Has Traveled Over Entire Territory and Says They Are All Coming Here

"Everything points forward to one of the greatest Saengerfests in history," said President Theodore G. Behrens of the Northwest Saengerbund in an interview at his quarters at the Hotel Stoddard during his recent visit to the city. "I have visited at nearly every society that is a member of the bund and the enthusiasm that is being shown toward the Saengerfest that opens in your city July 23, is certainly gratifying to those interested in the great biennial fest of the German singing societies of the northwest.

"In Chicago alone, there will be a delegation of four hundred active singers, while the number of friends and others interested in the festival will nearly double that number. A special train has been chartered over the Milwaukee road to convey the many singers and friends to La Crosse and nothing is being left undone by the societies there to help make it a success from every standpoint. While Chicago will be a strong representative at the meeting, there still remain over fifty other cities in states surrounding La Crosse that will be present in large numbers.

"In my visit at Omaha the enthusiasm being shown there is wonderful. They have planned a big campaign for the Saengerfest in 1910 and will come to La Crosse well prepared to make a strong fight for the next meeting. Up to the present but two other cities have signified their intentions of being contestants for the next convention. Rock Island and Davenport are both planning a great campaign for the next fest and it looks as though there will be a three-cornered fight which will hold considerable interest during the fest the last of this month.

"A conference with Prof. Theo. Keibe, who will be the director of all the concerts, alone proves that the fest in your city will be a great success as far as the concerts are concerned. He has just completed a tour over all the territory where singers will appear in the five concerts, and he reports that all the societies are well trained and that all the songs have been well rehearsed. The concerts during the fest promise to eclipse all others in the past years and the programs have been accepted by the officers who report in splendid terms on the work of your secretary.

During my visit here I attended the rehearsal of the children's chorus and was certainly well pleased with the showing made by the young people. It is equally as large as the children's chorus at St. Paul two years ago, and I believe they will make a much better showing with their voices. All the children appeared to be taking special interest in their work and this I believe will promote success in their apparently new adventures.

Accommodate Visitors. "One of the greatest troubles that has been before the members of the Saengerfest in the past few years, has been finding accommodation for the great numbers that attend the fest, but the committee in charge of that department for the present fest has handled the matter with great success and all the visitors that have written for accommodations to the present, have been accommodated, and your secretary states that there is still considerable room for many more visitors.

"At a recent meeting of the officers of the bund it was decided to request all the active singers to appear in a dark coat, light vest and light tie. This is an entirely new plan and will be given its first try in the fest in La Crosse. It will greatly improve the appearance of the concerts and is looked forward to add to the success of the fest."

to resist the urgent invitation we will extend to them personally to come and 'get in the game.' "Thanking you for this trouble but feeling that you will be only too glad to extend this co-operation, that you may each better enjoy the great good time ahead, I beg to remain, "Fraternalty yours, "HARRY C. WHITTIER," Chairman Publicity Committee of the Saengerfest at La Crosse.

ANNA HICKISCH IS PLEASED WITH PLANS

FEELS CERTAIN SAENGERFEST WILL BE BIG SUCCESS

AUDITORIUM IS FIRST CLASS

Under Circumstances Nothing Better for the Big Festival Could Be Secured, She Says

The 1908 Saengerfest will not be the first time that Miss Anna Hickisch has sung before an admiring La Crosse audience. It will be remembered that the prima donna sang at a Saengerfest about 14 years ago. This was the first year after her return from Boston, where she had been training her wonderful voice. She expresses herself very favorably impressed with the prospects for the coming event.

"The only objection I have to the Saengerfest is the time of the year in which it is to be held. If it had come earlier or later Mr. Howland would have been able to accompany me to the city and would probably have led the sixty piece orchestra which I understand you will have here for the fest. He always leads the orchestra when accompanying my selections."

Miss Hickisch was very warm in the praise of the committee in charge of the "fest" and commented favorably on the selection of the talent. From what she has heard concerning the Saengerfest she is sure that it will be a success in every way.

"I think that Saengerfest have at least one especially strong feature in their favor, and that is that they bring together a collection of good talent that the people of the vicinity would probably never have the opportunity of hearing. They also give the people the chance to hear a greater variety of good music than they would otherwise be able to hear at one time. They also bring the people of a community together and promote a friendly feeling between the different classes and nationalities.

"As to the Saengerfest auditorium I can make no criticisms but what are good. The hall is as perfect as it could be under the circumstances and I know it will be a pleasure to sing in it. Considering the shortness of the time in which to put so large and complete a structure it seems wonderful that it is so perfect.

Thanks La Crosse Improved.

"Many changes have been made in the city since I last visited it, but all these changes are for the better. The city is still as beautiful as ever. I notice many new buildings are coming up and the city is growing very rapidly."

NORTH SIDE IS INTERESTED IN FEST

Although the North Side will take great interest in the Saengerfest and a great many people will be accommodated in the different homes the North Side hotels will not make an extended effort to accommodate the guests of the coming Saengerfest. The reason is that the majority of the hotels on the north side are dependent upon the railroad element almost entirely and accommodations are reserved for them more than the other transient trade.

Another thing, too, the proprietors have not been notified in regard to the Saengerfest and they do not know whether they will be expected to take in their visitors or not. However they are not anticipating a very large portion of the visitors and it is doubtful whether they care to cater to the guests when they are dependent upon the regular railroad people for support.

It is needless to say, however, that the coming singers will not be turned down whenever the proprietors of any of the North Side hostleries can possibly accommodate them.

The woman who is ambitious to become a society leader begins by leading her husband around by the nose.

MUSCATINE SOCIETY TO COME BY RAIL

SINGERS ENGAGE THE "SILVER CRESCENT" FOR TRIP

OTHERS MAY COME BY BOAT

Trip up the Father of Waters will be One of the Pleasant Features of the La Crosse Festival

Many of the societies of the different cities along the river, as St. Louis, Red Wing, Winona, Dubuque and others may combine two pleasures in connection with the saengerfest and instead of a wearisome train ride may enjoy a trip on the river in coming and going to and from the fest. The Mississippi in this part of the country is noted for its beautiful scenery and splendid boat accommodations and this has led many of the societies on its banks to make the journey to La Crosse by boat instead of by rail. The trip may be made either by launch or steamboat and news has already been received to the effect that some of the singers are planning to make use of the river. The following is taken from the Muscatine Journal:

"The Muscatine Maennerchor is going to La Crosse attend the big saengerfest there commencing July 23 by way of the Mississippi as it received a proposition from the owners of the Silver Crescent at the regular meeting last night which is favorably looked upon by a large number of the members. It is understood that the railroad companies have granted as low a rate as was expected and unless they come down by the 15th of July it is probable that the Muscatine crowd will go to Davenport and from there take the boat to the Wisconsin city. The management promises to make the La Crosse from Davenport in 20 hours and in returning to reach the city in 20 hours with a round trip of three dollars for the round trip.

If boat accommodations can be secured it would be cheaper for the societies of the cities on the river to do the trip by water than to do the trip by rail. It would also be a great deal of pleasure and many would make the trip just for the novelty of it.

OMAHA JOINS IN HOPE OF SUCCESS

Chairman Harry C. Whittier of the advertising committee of the Saengerfest, now has a corps of assistants handling the mail for Saengerfest and the advertising letter. Letters are coming in hundreds from parties expected to attend and following is an extract of the opinion being held for the Omaha, Neb., July 6, 1908. Mr. Harry C. Whittier, Chairman Pub. Com. Saengerfest La Crosse, Wis.

Dear Sir: Your letters of recent date received and you will please find enclosed herewith our membership list of five singers of the Omaha Maennerchor, who all intend going to Saengerfest in La Crosse. We have their promise to attend to a man. We shall all be glad to meet you at the fest. Whoop hur up! Fraternally yours, FRED DAIKER, Sect. Omaha Maennerchor.

LIMITED TRAINS STOP FOR FEST

The local agent of the Chicago Burlington and Quincy railroad has received word from the main office to the effect that the limited trains will stop at all the small stations in the vicinity of La Crosse during the Saengerfest held here July 23 to 26. Stops will be made along the stations from Prairie du Chien and also north of the city.

RELATIVE ENERGY GIVING QUALITIES:

Wheat—Protein 12 1-4 per cent, Starch 81 1-2 percent, Oil 2 per cent, Water 2 per cent, Ash, 1 per cent, Crude Fiber 2 per cent.

Pop Corn—Protein 15 1-2 per cent, Starch 51 per cent, Oil 1 per cent, Water 10 per cent, Ash 1 1-2 per cent, Crude Fiber 5 per cent, Phosphates 17 per cent.

Pop Corn leads all grains by 3 1-4 per cent in Proteins. Proteins is the energy giving, life sustaining element of grain; it is the animal or vegetable albumen, the nutritive matter in a seed for the use of the embryo.

The Crude Fiber and Ash are burned up in popping. The crude fiber consists of cellulose and this burns the corn to pop, thus eliminating all crude indigestible materials.

The Starch is turned by heating into soluble sugar, which instead of being fattening is energy giving. The Protein and Phosphates remaining are very nourishing and special bone producers.

Now when combined with wheat, in which the Gluten, fatty Starch and Nerve elements predominate, we have in Po-Co-No the strongest possible food combination. Thus in our food we supply a product giving far higher percentage of life sustaining nutriment than any single grain and this without taxing the digestion, owing to its cooked popped condition.

THE TRIBUNE JUNIOR

Volume 1 :: Number 28
July 11, 1908

the Juniors:

Well, now vacation is well on the way and the Fourth is over and gone. Hope that all of you had a very nice Fourth of July and didn't let your fingers burn.

I want to put an idea into the heads of you bright boys and girls, and I hope you will think about it, little at least.

It is vacation, and study is out of the way. Most of you have a good deal of time on your hands.

What are you going to do with it? Is it such a good time to start mending for which there is no time during the months of school.

Think it out. Don't let this rest slip by without leaving something valuable with you.

Of course, I want you all to have your play time, but we can all find time to say a kind word or do a kind deed.

We won't have any special topic this week, but on this page you will find a story.

This story is only started. Now, I want you to try and finish it and tell what happened to the children and what they saw in the little log house. I will print the best ones next week.

Your friend,
BERTHA BURTON.

The automobile can not fly because it is not a bird but my father says the price flies high any how. My father told me a little poem about the automobile that I am going to recite for you:

biel.Yours truly,
J. A. B.

Dear Miss Burton:

As our subject this week is to tell about what we are going to do in vacation, I will write and tell you what I have planned to do this summer.

The first part of vacation I stayed at home, but soon I am going out in the country to my grandfathers' farm. We always have lots of fun in the country.

We help grandma feed the little chickens and turkeys, go after the cows and do lots of nice things.

There is a nice little creek near my grandpa's house and when it is hot, we go in wading.

My letter is getting quite long, so I will stop now and write more some other time.

Your loving Junior,
B. M. L.

(This is a very nice way for any boy or girl to spend his or her vacation.)

WHAT HAPPENED NEXT?

Jimmie and Daisy and Dolly lived in the country. Their home was a pleasant little cottage surrounded with trees and flowers. Jimmie was twelve years of age, and Daisy was nine, while little Dolly was seven.

Jimmie always wanted to be boss, because, as he said, "You see I am older than you are and, of course, boys know more than girls anyway."

The children went to a little country school, about a mile away. In the winter when the snow was deep, their father would take them to school and come after them at four o'clock. They would take their dinner with them, as it was too far to go home at noon.

But in the summer time they would rather walk. They would take a short cut through the woods and across the creek. Instead of going along the dusty road.

They all three loved these woods very much indeed, for here they found the earliest spring flowers and later, the wild berries. Some times they would stop at the little bridge over the creek and watch the little fish swimming about in the water, and some times they would take off their shoes and stockings and go in wading.

One afternoon they were coming home a little earlier than usual and stopped a while at the bridge. Then they decided to look for flowers. Most of the early spring flowers were gone, so they went deeper into the woods in search of them.

Wandering around in this way, they did not notice where they were going till suddenly they noticed a little log house standing alone in a little clearing. They had never noticed this little house before and hardly knew what to make of it.

It was a very lonely and deserted looking house. The windows were broken and the plaster was falling from the cracks between the logs. The door was partly open and hanging on one hinge.

The children approached it and Jimmie said that he was going inside and find out if there was anything in it. But Daisy and Dolly said that they wanted to go home. "Don't go in there," said Daisy. "There might be something in there."

"Pooh," answered Jimmie. "That's just like a girl, anyway. I'm going in there and see what is in there. If you are afraid, you needn't come." So Jimmie went up to the door and pushed it open, the girls following close behind.

What did they see in there? What happened to them? Let the Juniors all try and finish this story, and tell what Jimmie found in the little log house. The best ones will be printed on the Junior page next week.

(For the Boy whose Birthday Is in July.)

A JULY BOY.

Little boy with the free-tossing hair,
Little boy with the fire in your eye,
It is fit that your birthday should come

In the lion's month—in July.

Little boy with the warrior-like air,
Little boy with the spirit so high,
It is fit that your birthday should come

In the Caesar's month—in July.

Little boy, 'tis your country's birth month;
And hurrah! and hurrah! is the cry;
We'll march and we'll shout and we'll sing

With the boy who is born in July.

Little boy you shall have for your gift
A great flag to toss up to the sky,
What so fit as the red, white and blue.

For a boy that's born in July.

ERICA'S BIRTHDAY PRESENT.

"Many happy returns of the day, Erica," Erica opened her eyes and sat up in bed wide awake.

"Oh, mamma," she cried, "is it really my birthday after all? I thought it never would come, there seemed so many days, and it is so long since I had a birthday."

Erica was soon dressed and down in the breakfast room. Great was her excitement when the door opened and her sister appeared, carrying a lot of mysterious-looking packages. She was soon busy tearing off the wrappers and enjoying the contents. A doll's go-cart and many other long desired toys made her dance round the table, clapping her hands.

"Here's a present from Uncle Jack!"

Erica opened the lid and gave a surprised scream, for out tumbled a fat, white terrier puppy, which ran barking across the room.

All Erica's other presents were quite put in the shade by her live toy, and she and the puppy became devoted playmates.

One day after lunch she had been giving Bounce biscuits, which rapidly disappeared, and he still begged for more. She was alone in the dining-room, and looked anxiously around to see what could be found. Her eyes fell upon the mustard-pot.

"Oh, Bounce, dear," she cried, "you shall have a treat! Here's something lovely that daddy eats. Come, I will feed you," and, suiting the action to the words, she thrust a spoonful of mustard into puppy's mouth.

The next instant the whole household was alarmed by piercing screams and howls proceeding from the dining-room. Round and round rushed Bounce, burnt and terrified as though he had gone mad, and down on the floor sat Erica, tears of alarm running down her face.

"She has been feeding the dog with mustard," said her father, as he caught up the poor little, howling puppy and wiped away at its mouth, which was literally smeared inside and out. "Oh, baby, baby, how could you be so cruel?"

"Jam," wailed Erica—"nice jam, and he didn't like it! I won't give him any more!"

Poor little Bounce! For many a day he remembered how his little mistress had fed him with a spoon, and often when her arms were tightly clasped around his fat body he trembled lest some other dreadful experience awaited him.

But Erica had hurt him from ignorance, and tried hard to atone for her mistake.

AUDITORIUM WORK
PROGRESSING FAST

The work on the auditorium is progressing rapidly and the building, with the exception of a few minor details, is practically completed.

All of the windows have been put in and the interior is finished with the exception of the stage. This part of the work is underway at the present time. This will be the largest stage that was ever erected in La Crosse and will seat 2,000 singers. It is built in tiers the rows extending the entire width of the building and the full stage will occupy nearly half of the building. The stairways leading from the balcony to the ground are still to be erected but this will take but a short time.

A crew of electricians have been at work for the past few days wiring the building and installing the lights and this will also be completed soon. The building is to be amply lighted and many exits have been provided, and, according to the contractors, it will be one of the easiest buildings to empty in the country. Doors have been put in at all sides of the building and besides the two entrances to the balcony there will also be two exits. These will lead from the side of the balcony and down to the ground.

Among other things that remain to be done, before the work can be called finished, is the decoration of the front of the building. This has been put in the hands of a committee ably fitted to do the work. There will also be some interior decorations in the way of electrical displays.

In this fat country, a man can pay his debts if he really wants to; therefore people do not like a man who fails to do it.

ANNUAL PICNIC

The Normanna Saengerfest will hold its annual picnic at the Shooting Park next Sunday, July 12th. A large attendance of pre-Saengerfest singers is expected and if the weather is good an excellent time is assured.

KELBE LEAVES
THE LIEDERTAFEL

Word has been received here to the effect that Theodore Kelbe, who is to lead the choruses at the concerts in La Crosse during the coming saengerfest, is about to leave the Milwaukee Liedertafel, of which he has been director for a number of years.

The Milwaukee Journal states the following in regard to his leaving:

"Theodore Kelbe, prominent musical director, leaves the Milwaukee Liedertafel October 1.

"Rumors of conflicts of his opinion with that of others in the organization have been heard frequently, but could not be confirmed.

"Mr. Kelbe declined to discuss the subject, but admitted that he gave notice of leaving the Liedertafel on July 1, to be effective in three months, as per contract.

"Mr. Kelbe was director of the Northwestlicher Saengerbund, his leading at the saengerfests has always been the subject of comment.

His direction of the Liedertafel's golden jubilee concert recently excited praise from critics everywhere. "His plans have not been decided definitely."

BATHS INVADED
IN HOT WEATHER

The hot weather proved too much for a large number of young boys and the result was that the bath house was taken possession of by the younger element yesterday afternoon regardless of the fact that the public baths are not opened as yet. If the authorities wait for the water to go down the baths may not be opened for a month as the water shows no signs of going down the stage showing 1-10 of an inch raise on the contrary.

DEATH STOPS FEAST OF IOWA ATTORNEYS

SUPREME JUDGE BISHOP DROPS DEAD JUST BEFORE BANQUET

Deceased was Joking When Clot of Blood on the Brain Ended His Earthly Career

WATERLOO, Ia., July 11.—Chas. A. Bishop, judge of the supreme court of Iowa at Des Moines, dropped dead in Waterloo at 6:30 Wednesday night.

He was joking with United States Attorney Fred Faville and Judge Bollinger of Davenport while awaiting a banquet at the Ellis hotel. A clot on the brain caused him to stop amidst laughter and closed his eyes in death.

His tragic end was witnessed by half a hundred members of the state bar association, which opened its annual session. The banquet which was ready for the members, was left untasted.

Judge Bishop was 55 years old and leaves a family now visiting in Los Angeles.

He was born in Wisconsin and had practiced law with Judge Bagz in Minneapolis. He was district judge of Polk county when appointed in 1903 by Gov. Cummins to the supreme bench to fill a vacancy, and later he was elected.

CHURCH ENGAGES BAND.

WATERLOO, Ia., July 11.—Rev. Walter H. Rollins of the new Congregational church in Waterloo has made a departure from the usual methods of inducing big congregations during hot weather by engaging the Cedar Falls concert band of forty pieces to give concerts each Sunday evening during the rest of July. The musicale will be in the nature of a sacred concert, which the pastor believes will cause many new faces to appear in his audience.

CANNOT GET RID OF SPOUSE.

DEVILS LAKE, N. D., July 11.—Another case of love-making by correspondence came to a climax here, when Kate Wagner brought suit for a divorce from her husband, Albert W. Wagner, on the ground of habitual intoxication.

In 1894 Albert W. Wagner, then a bachelor of 40 years, became tired of single life and tried his luck with the matrimonial agencies. The name of Kate Coleman, aged 23 years, was sent him by the agency as a suitable companion for life, and immediate correspondence followed, with the result that in the same year they decided to marry, and the wedding was celebrated at the home of the bride in Indiana.

G. B. Burhans testifies after four years.

G. B. Burhans, of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment, and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble." Fellow Prisoner Notifies Authorities and Body of Man Found With Throat Cut CROOKSTON, Minn., July 11.—Yesterday morning at the city jail Capt. Vonderbeck was notified by Sever Cliffgard, a prisoner in the jail, that another prisoner had suicided, and upon entering a rear cell found the dead body of Herman Nelson, of Hallock, on the bunk with his throat slashed from ear to ear and the arteries in both wrists cut. He had been dead three hours. Nelson applied for a bed at the jail at 9:30 that night. He complained of being ill and was taken to a physician who did not believe there was much the matter with him. His brother at Hallock was then telephoned to but replied that he could not help his brother and would not be good for the hospital bill. Nelson was locked up again. He made no outcry or struggle. It is supposed he was recovering from a spree. He was single, 30 years of age and a well known resident of Hallock for years.

BRITISH BATTLESHIP AS IT WILL APPEAR WHEN COMPLETED

LONDON, Eng., July 2.—Great Britain is constructing a new type of battleship which will be the greatest fighting vessel ever made. It will be constructed at a cost of $12,250,000, which is $2,200,000 more than the cost of the Dreadnaught. It is to be called the Fondroyant. She will be 550 feet long and will have 12 great 13.5 guns, while no other battleship now building provides for guns larger than 12 inch.

The most peculiar thing about the battleship of the future is its development of motive power by gas engines. There will be no funnel and no stokers. This will enable the great battleship to economize on space inside and will do away with the dangers of boiler explosion. It will have no funnels for the enemy to make a target of and the vessel will be able to get under full speed at any time the order is given. Another point is that with the gas engines there is no noise whatever and no sparks. This will enable the giant battleship to creep upon the enemy unawares. The armor of the Fondroyant will be 12 inches thick and she will have a speed of 23 knots an hour.

Pioneers of the Barley Belt fought many a hard battle to defend their homes and farm lands against the brave and wily red man. Among the early pioneers of Northern Wisconsin came John Gund, a German brew-master, who was attracted by the barley-growing lands about La Crosse. At once he built a brewery of logs and established his famous brew—

Gund's Peerless Beer

This all happened more than 50 years ago, and "Peerless" Beer today, brewed in a model 20th century brewery, is famed throughout America to lovers of barley malt and hop brew. "Peerless" is to be had at all first-class places and is the first choice of the discriminating. Order a case for your home today.

It is an exhilarating and healthful beverage.

MILWAUKEE LAWYER DIES ON VACATION

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 11.—Charles F. Hunter, member of the law firm of Hunter & Goff, died suddenly in Sturgeon Bay. He was on his vacation and was accompanied by Judge W. J. Turner. News of the sudden death was received by Attorney Guy D. Goff late last night.

Mr. Hunter, with Judge Turner, left Milwaukee for the north a few weeks ago. Mr. Hunter was at that time in evident good health. The news of his death consequently came as a shock to his family and friends.

Mr. Hunter became a member of the law firm of Turner, Hunter & Goff several years ago. The firm was recently changed to that of Hunter & Goff owing to the election of Judge Turner to the Circuit bench.

Mr. Hunter has been actively engaged in the practice of law for the last six or eight years in this city. He had established a large practice, was well known professionally and had many friends. He has lived in Milwaukee most of his life.

He has held several public positions. He was formerly assistant city attorney and later clerk of the circuit court.

He resided at 294 Lafayette avenue. He is survived by his wife and children. The family was informed of his death late last night. The body will probably be shipped to Milwaukee from Sturgeon Bay today. It is being cared for by Judge Turner who will make all arrangements. It is probable, however, that Mr. Goff will go to the north and will accompany Judge Turner back to this city.

PERILOUS TRIP TO REACH DYING CHILD

MARINETTE, Wis., July 11.—Losing his road in the woods during the night, Benjamin Stanton improvised a raft by putting two logs together under a board and on this battled down stream in an effort to reach his dying babe. Word had been sent him that his five months old daughter was seriously ill. He was employed at the time on the Main river drive near Sixty Islands. He set out at once on foot, but when night came lost his way. Striking the river he improvised the raft and made his way down until he found a clearing, when he awakened the occupants of a hut who directed him to the right road. Though numb and cold as his feet had been constantly in the water the sorrowing father continued on his way to the city and after walking seven more miles he reached Crivitz where he took the train. But when he arrived at home his child had passed away.

PREPARE HISTORY OF BADGER TROOPS

WILL PUBLISH ANNALS OF EACH CO. IN WAR

THREE MONOGRAPHS READY

Col. Haskell of Gettysburg, Col. and Gen. Kellogg of Iron Brigade

MADISON, Wis., July 11.—The Wisconsin Historical commission decided to publish three new and valuable monographs on the participation of Wisconsin troops in the civil war. The most important, perhaps, will be the one by Col. W. F. Vilas of Madison on the part taken by Wisconsin troops in the siege of Vicksburg. The colonel has consented at the urgent request of the commission to write such an article. He is a member of the state commission trying to select a design for the $100,000 monument to be erected by the state at Vicksburg in commemoration of the part taken by the Badger troops in that historic siege.

Battle of Gettysburg History.
One of the other monographs is a history of the battle of Gettysburg by Col. Frank A. Haskell, member of the staff of General John Gibbon, who lost his life at Cold Harbor, in 1864. This history was written by Col. Haskell and sent to a brother at Portage, Wis., where it was recently found by Col. A. J. Turner, who has written an explanatory note to it.

The third monograph is a narrative of army and prison life by Gen. John A. Kellogg, deceased, an officer of the famous Iron Brigade. The article was secured from Mrs. J. A. Kellogg of Faribault, Minn.

History of Each Regiment.

The commission is planning to have a history of each Wisconsin regiment written and published. Other matter covering the part of Wisconsin and its citizens in the civil war will also be prepared and published. The commission consists of C. E. Estabrook of Milwaukee, president; Henry E. Legler of Milwaukee, secretary of the Wisconsin library commission; Governor J. O. Davidson; Secretary Reuben G. Thwaites of the state historical society, and Prof. Fred J. Turner of the state university.

VILLAGE ALARMED BY BURGLARS

WAUSAU, Wis., July 11.—The town of Edgar was greatly alarmed this morning when burglars blew open the safe of Lutz & Pfingst, general merchants. They secured about $90, but left no clue. Later in the day two suspects were arrested, but upon examination were released.

Every man who is living by his wits should take serious notice of the fact that he cannot make that policy win.

ITCHING HUMOR ON LITTLE BOY

His Hands were a Solid Mass, and Disease Spread All Over His Body—In Four Days the Child was Entirely Cured—Mother Strongly

RECOMMENDS CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"One day we noticed that our little boy was all broken out with itching sores. We first noticed it on his little hands. His hands were not as bad then, and we didn't think anything serious would result. But the next day we heard of the Cuticura Remedies being so good for itching sores, etc., that I thought I would get them. By this time the disease had spread all over his body, and his hands were nothing but a solid mass of this itching disease. I went to the drug store and purchased a box of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment, and that night I stripped my little boy and took the Cuticura Soap and lukewarm water and washed him well. Then I dried him with a soft bath towel, and took the Cuticura Ointment and rubbed him thoroughly with it. I did this every evening before I put him to bed and in three or four nights he was entirely cured. You have my permission to publish this because anybody who suffered as my baby did ought to know of the Cuticura Remedies. I will surely and gladly recommend the Cuticura Remedies, for they are a godsend to all suffering with skin diseases. Mrs. Frank Donahue, 208 Fremont St., Kokomo, Ind., Sept. 16, 1907."

MAN HUNT IN WAUKESHA.

WAUKESHA, Wis., July 1.—An exciting man chase took place here in which Deputy Sheriff M. F. Clancy, District Attorney Muckleson, and John R. Hughes clerk of the municipal court participated, when Harry Tierney, a deserter from the United States army made a sensational attempt to escape when being taken back to jail from the courthouse. Tierney and another prisoner were in charge of Clancy. Tierney ran up the alley with Clancy in hot pursuit. The officer fired four shots but failed to halt him. The district attorney and other officers and citizens joined in the chase and soon a crowd was in pursuit. Tierney was captured at the rear of the Casino theatre by Joe Dudley, a telephone lineman, and Owen Owens, a teamster. Tierney enlisted in the regular army at Jefferson City, Mo., and deserted in Georgia. Returning here he was arrested on a criminal charge preferred by Goldie Faulkner, an inmate of the county poor house.

Grain Opinions.

Chicago Grain Outlook: Wheat—Attention of the trade now centers on the northwest and while it is very likely that damage claims will be overdrawn we feel that the possibilities are sufficiently bullish to justify purchases on weak days.

The leaders supported corn and oats yesterday and forced the bulk of short interest to cover; prices for the new crop months look high to buy, but with the indications that firmness will prevail for a time yet, would continue to hold long lines bought to advantage for a further quick bulge before selling to realize profits.

Liverpool Close—Wheat, 1/4 to 1/2 higher; corn, 1/4 to 1/2 higher.

New York Stocks.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The selling movement that was in progress yesterday continued at the opening of the stock market. The movement caused lower prices but quiet buying coming from many sources strengthened at the end of the hour and all early losses were recovered; some stocks showed moderate gains. The volume of business throughout the hour was smaller than any previous time during the week. Government bonds unchanged; others irregular.

KANSAS CITY, July 11.—Cattle, 700; steady; steers, $4.50 to $8; stockers, $3 to $5.30.

Hogs, 2,000; 5 to 10c higher; bulk, $6.45 to $6.60; pigs, $5 to $5.50.

Sheep, steady; muttons, $4 to $4.50; lambs, $4.50 to $6.60.

RELIABILITY

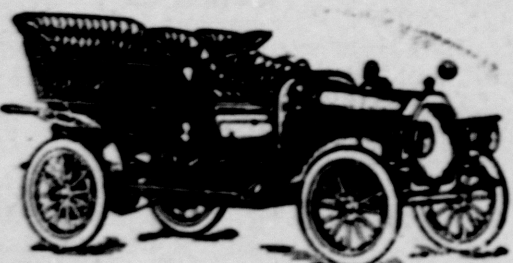

No matter if you have but a small sum to put into a motor car it is wasted if you buy a trashy, cheap vehicle which has nothing to recommend it but the price.

Better not take too much for granted when buying a motor car—get a thorough demonstration, impose hard conditions, make your demonstrator take you over rough hard roads and hills, mud—if he offers excuses make up your mind that he has a car with weak spots which he is afraid will develop under a strain. We want to prove to you that reliability of the cars we sell and you cannot impose a test too severe. All our cars are acknowledged leaders in their respective classes, but we do not want you to take our word for it. We will prove to any intending purchaser that the extra value in our cars is in their ability to do more and better work than the cheap cars sold on a bargain counter basis. Do you wish to be convinced? All we ask is the opportunity. Make an appointment for a demonstration NOW.

BY ALICE WHEELER.

The warm weather for which all have been anxiously longing and waiting has at length put in an appearance and still we are not happy. Fortunately it held off till the latter part of the week, making it more comfortable for those who were entertaining.

Mrs. E. M. Wing gave two large coffees during the week. Mrs. John Bayer was hostess at one upon Tuesday. Mrs. D. Cunningham gave a small luncheon at the Country club for her cousin, Mrs. Martin of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Van Auker entertained at a dinner at the Country club in honor of some guests of Judge Reid. Mrs. Andrew Boyd gave a picnic and launch ride Friday afternoon. Thursday a number of ladies enjoyed a ride to West Salem. The Merry-Go-Rounds picnicked at Sauer's Grove in Onalaska. Mrs. J. Spier Colman and Mrs. B. S. Steadwell gave a "show" to a large number of people in honor of Miss Louise Harrison and there were a number of minor affairs, bridge companies and family picnics. This afternoon the Woman's union of the Congregational church gave an excursion on the W. W. Those who attended had a delightful cool water trip and the return home by the light of the moon was an inspiration for an artist.

LAUNCH PARTY

A jolly crowd went to French Island Sunday, the 5th of July. In the J. I. Stevens launch and picnicked on the island. Mr. J. I. Stevens and wife proved a worthy host and hostess, and entertained their guests charmingly. Games, dancing and baseball were indulged in and there was a shower in the morning. Mr. Stevens threw the house open to the guests, and tables were set in the dining room instead of on the lawn. All present reported a lovely time, and arrived home at about 9 p. m. The party was comprised of Messrs. and Mesdames Joe Bodette, A. Boucher, Wm. Niebel, Wm. Drake, J. I. Stevens, John Harget, the Misses Ida Crease, Catherine Jones, Minnie Harget and Cordia Boucher, and Messrs. Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes broadcast and on each bottle wrapper, what his medicine is made of and what its ingredients are. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicine are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdomen or pelvic region, accompanied, oftentimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nerve and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

WHO JOHN KERN OF INDIANA, IS

TWICE CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR OF HOOSIER STATE

PROTEGE OF TOM TAGGART

Vice Presidential Nominee Has Been Prominent in His Own State and Attended Fairbanks' Dinner

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 11—

John W. Kern was twice a candidate for governor of Indiana. He is a protegee of Thomas Taggart, former chairman of the democratic national committee, and has been an active figure in the democratic politics of Indiana for many years.

Mr. Kern was born December 20, 1849, in Alto, Howard county, Indiana. His father was an old fashioned country doctor, and came originally from Virginia. Young Kern attended the common schools, but was aided in his studies by his father, who was a student of note. The boy was graduated from the state university of Michigan and began the practice of law at the seat of his native county.

In 1871 he was elected city attorney and served several terms. He became celebrated as an orator and through his connection with a number of noted criminal cases won distinction as a lawyer. In 1884 he was nominated by the democrats for reporter of the supreme court. He served four years in this office.

In 1888 he resumed the practice of law, devoting himself to issues involving corporation and constitutional law. He was appointed by Attorney General Olney of President Cleveland's administration to assist in the prosecution of the wreckers of the Indianapolis National bank and succeeded in convicting the principals and sending them to the penitentiary.

Mr. Kern served in the state senate of Indiana during the sessions of 1893 and 1895. He ran for governor in 1900, but was defeated. He is a thirty-third degree Mason, a Knight of Pythias and a prominent member of the Elks.

Mr. Kern is a total abstainer. He was a member of the dinner party at which Vice President Fairbanks served the famous cocktail.

WANTS DAMAGES FOR AN ASSAULT

Ernest Cornell of St. Joseph's Ridge has started suit against Joseph Kobiltz for $500 for injuries alleged to have been inflicted upon him during a quarrel in a dance hall on St. Joseph's Ridge.
